

Well, we've already started using the latest Best of the Magic City photos on our front page (that's just in case you didn't already know).

We've also created our own Flickr Group trying to encourage folks to tag pictures that could be used for stories or that simply show things you enjoy about the Magic City. The folks at Flickr have gone one step further and they've created pages for cities. The one that exists for Birmingham is shown in the screenshot above. Check it out and see if your city's already set up.
