

Straight from a great little blog, here's a fun event — the Get Rhythm Experience — to be held in the atrium of the Birmingham Public Library's Central location downtown. And what is the Get Rhythm Experience you ask? It is a collaboration of drummers, percussionists and dancers led by John Scalici. If you've ever seen a drum circle around town, you've seen John Scalici in action. The group will perform original compositions which blend urban voices and sounds with world-beat influenced rhythms from West Africa, the Middle East and Brazil. It's part of the BPL@Night series.
