That would seem to be the $1 million question. The two-hour premiere will no doubt get some viewers, but we want to know if the home of Idols will watch this season? One person's opinion is that American Idol has finally jumped the shark...

Click here and let us know what you think.