

The Birmingham Track Club has decided to try something a little different this year. Their First Friday events (not to be confused with the popular urban networking event series held across the country) will be an opportunity for current and long-time members to mingle while allowing for those interested in joining the group to see what it's all about - without even having to lace up. Sounds like a cool way to check it out.

Location:

The Bottletree

3719 3rd Avenue South (directions)