

...and we're ready to help with at least a few of those suggestions. Christina and Sam are delivering a one, two punch of their own today. Christina's up first with an extremely crowded "Got Plans?" although, if you haven't already seen it this morning, you missed this morning's tip.

Sam follows up with his column (available after 12:45 p.m. today over there) highlighting some options musically in Birmingham's downtown and Southside areas.

You know, we'd like to cover some more sections of town (and some more genres). If you're interested, drop us a line. It sounds harder than it is and it's fun - plus we're actually starting to get CDs to review (you can say you knew them when...).