

We've noticed that many people have stumbled across our site while looking for information about when the farmer's market in Linn Park will begin this year.

We've learned that the market is tentatively scheduled to make its return for a third year beginning next Wednesday, June 13. The market will run from 10 a.m. - 2 p.m.

At this time, the end date is not known. It is also not known if the market will operate on July 4, which falls on a Wednesday this year. Once the final set of dates are confirmed, we will add them to the Timetable calendar.
