

The IRS tax deadline is approaching, and that means it's time for 1040 Fest.

The event is an annual music festival sponsored by Birmingham's Central City Neighborhood Association & held across the street from the city's downtown post office each year on tax day.

The residents and their event partners take advantage of the branch's extended hours (due to the many late filers) and the media coverage that follows because of it to show off just how great the downtown area is to be in.

Attendees are encouraged to bring lawn chairs, food and drink... and their tax returns if they haven't filed them yet

Cost: Free

Location:

Intersection of 24th Street and 3rd Avenue North
