

A quiet week on the site in general but since we all know how much our readers love getting ready for the weekend...

Sam's post says it's been up since yesterday, but for some reason it wasn't showing up. Well it's there now. His picks luckily includes Saturday's show at The Bottletree (which we happen to be sponsoring - though Sam didn't know that yet )

Christina's "Got Plans?" post is scheduled for an 8:45 a.m. appearance over on our arts and culture blog. Check them both out and don't forget to comment on them if there's something we didn't list. Of course, you could always submit the event for inclusion on our calendar too...

Don't forget to come on out and check out Saturday's show and check in with your favorite hub while you're there.
