We wanted to take a moment to welcome all of our new followers on Twitter (BTW – want to follow us? It’s bhamterminal). We also wanted to make sure that you knew about a new site that allows all of us in Birmingham to keep track of each other using the popular service.

Birmingham Pulse has apparently just launched this weekend. This aggregator of Twitter users in the Magic City works along the same lines as the Birmingham Combloggregator for area bloggers. They’re hoping that folks will begin to follow it and generate an even bigger conversation.

Check out site administrator Jason Esman’s \(zerolove’s\) post about the site on his blog for a description and start following them.
