

We figured we'd try this again.

Here's how it'll happen; we'll show up at The Bottletree and hang out on the patio starting around 5 p.m. You'll come on out and join us on said patio as we really hope it's warm and not raining (although the patio is covered). We'll have some crazy conversations going on and we'll all be able to enjoy happy hour drink specials, Magic City Manhattans and chips and salsa.

What more do you need to enjoy a lazy Wednesday evening before the official start of summer? We thought so...

Let us know if you're coming either through Facebook or Upcoming.org.

Cost: It's happy hour, come on...
