

Well, we did say try in that last post yesterday... but we felt that you would want to know that this morning's debut of the 2008 Pepper Place Farmers Market has been rained out for May 3 (the threat of lightning didn't help either). We wouldn't want you to venture out in this storm for good food and be disappointed...

The rest of the 2008 schedule is available in our listing of the event. It runs through September 27.
