

acnatta/bhamterminal.com

We've got one more - hotel that is. After announcing that they'd renovate the former McArthur School as part of a purchase of the former Carraway Methodist Medical Center, representatives of Shinsegae USA have announced plans to build a new hotel to service their potential new purchase. The hotel would service the hospital as well as provide additional rooms for events and conferences at the BJCC.

Mayor Langford decided to have the building sitting on the property identified by the potential investors leveled while details about its and the hospital's purchase are being finalized. Here's what's left of the warehouse that once stood at 12th Avenue North and Carraway Blvd.