

This weekend will already be crazy with people racing to the courthouse and enjoying their art on the rocks.

20+ organizations are hoping that you'll come out and learn more about them to start it off right at the YP Expo while checking out one of the newest renovations in the city center.

In the process, it's also hoped that those in attendance will get to learn more about how many others are just like them, young, active and ready to make a positive change in our community.

The YP Expo takes place tomorrow evening, June 21, at the Innovation Depot in downtown Birmingham. The free event will go from 5:30 p.m. - 8:30 p.m. Organizers hope that several hundreds will come out and see what's going on among those young and active in the Magic City.

Music will be provided by The Spots.
