

George Cowgill (an overall great guy - not to mention hero) took some time out from the massively busy schedule of managing two of our favorite local bars and also being a firefighter for the City of Birmingham to talk to Whitney about some pretty big news over on Timetable. You may want to head on over to Timetable and take a look.

BTW - You may also want to stay tuned for her interview with the band headlining at Speakeasy tonight: Arkadelphia!
