

So, it's time for an update on WordCamp Birmingham. First of all, they've announced a new host venue for the conference's Saturday events - the Martha Moore Sykes Studio at the Virginia Samford Theatre. They've also announced the initial lineup for speakers and the preliminary schedule (there will be more adjustments in the coming days).

Folks are starting to register for the event as well (it'll close when it hits 125 people or 9/22/2008 - whichever comes first) and they're still looking for additional sponsors for the event as well. We'll have more to announce next week.
