

Map to State Line from Smyrna. PATH Foundation.

It's been getting tons of coverage for the last month, with yesterday's post on YP Now's blog being the most recent mention, and this weekend it becomes a reality. A 95-mile paved bike trail will officially become the nation's longest when it's officially completed this Saturday. For those of you in metro Atlanta who can't resist the call of the bike (which would normally include me), there's information on the PATH Foundation's website about all of the activities planned for the day.
