

Earlier this week we told you about the Taylor Hicks print being auctioned off to raise funds for Enterprise, Alabama's Board of Education. The city is still recovering from damage sustained and deaths caused by a tornado earlier this spring.

When the dust settled last night, the winning bid for the piece of art was $277.50. The starting bid was $30.