

The post title pretty much tells the story. 9 Numbers is reporting that Good People Brewing Company will be introducing an Oatmeal Stout tomorrow evening at Homewood's Harvest Brew event. Tria Market's blog has all of the pertinent information on this Oktoberfest celebration beginning at 5 p.m. According to the 9 Numbers post, it's a limited release, so if you don't get it tomorrow, you'll want to get on over to the J. Clyde and Five Points Grill next week.

While we're at it, the folks at Good People are asking folks to become fans of their page on Facebook instead of becoming friends with their profile.
