There's a new non-profit in town and they're asking you to Get inked for Pink - specifically as it pertains to breast cancer awareness. They're planning to hold two fundraisers in the coming months (the first is coming up on November 16 at The Bottletree) and have lined up a great stable of sponsors so far for their efforts, not to mention a two-day event being planned at Wicked Ways Tattoo Studio. You'll also want to check out this video on NBC 13's website from October. You'll also want to visit their MySpace profile to learn about how you can get involved.
