

So, you've already noticed the holiday music on Magic 96 and its website and the decorations out in stores. New to the "we haven't even hit Thanksgiving but it's Christmastime" file is the expansion of The Christmas Carolers into metro Birmingham and six other markets. So if you see some folks looking like they stepped out of Dickens' A Christmas Carol at your holiday party this year, that's why.
