

Franklin's Homewood Gourmet's Baby Blue Salad is arguably one of the most loved dishes in metro Birmingham. Tomorrow morning, July 7, if you head out to the Pepper Place Farmer's Market, Franklin Biggs will be making it as part of his cooking demonstration (beginning at 9 a.m.).

If you miss that, and after you go by the shop and realize it's closed for the day, you could head on over to his 10th anniversary celebration at the Children's Dance Foundation (CDF). It goes from 3 - 7 p.m. and costs $20. The net profit from the event will be split between the CDF and Taste of the Nation, a national program that is working to end childhood hunger in America.
