

A local user of Twitter has taken it upon himself to create a group on Facebook for folks in town who use the popular microblogging service. He's also called a Tweetup for December 29 at Urban Standard from 4-6 p.m. So if you can escape work early that first day after the Christmas holiday, you may want to go on over, check it out and let us know how it goes.

BTW, We'll have information about our first Terminally Happy Hour of the New Year (on January 8) available soon - plenty of time to wind down from the long holiday season.
