

 Fans of last year's OmegaCcon conference here in downtown Birmingham can breathe a sigh of relief...

That first year science fiction conference has been replaced by a new first year sci-fi conference, Imagicon. The conference will be a little later than last year's, taking place March 27-29 at the Sheraton Birmingham at the BJCC.

Their website appears to be receiving constant updates and it sounds like something that wants to be a part of the local scene for some time to come. It's already got some folks excited, like Nicki.
