

It's actually the 50th anniversary of National Hot Dog Day, introduced to us by the U.S. Chamber of Commerce in 1957. According to their official website (yes, we're serious), more than 2.3 billion franks will be eaten this July, which is actually National Hot Dog Month.

We here in Birmingham are pretty picky about our hot dogs, whether it's the "special sauce" or the Grapico or Coke that goes along with our dogs.

Where's your favorite place to go grab a hot dog (or 3) and why?
