

We just got an email asking for residents to show up at tomorrow's City Council meeting to show support for residents of the city's Glen Iris neighborhood. For more than a year they've been working to stop development of 107 apartments planned for the eastern side of George Ward Park on the former Knights of Columbus Property. Among other things, the park holds a 24-hole disc golf course.

They will attempt to convince the council tomorrow to initiate a Sector Plan Study of the portion of the Glen Iris Neighborhood that includes the property in question to determine the appropriate zoning. They're also hoping for a moratorium on building while that sector plan study is being conducted.

The email contains all of the pertinent details.
