

We tried to do this last month for Art on the Rocks, but realized that we didn't exactly send it out in timely fashion (not that we're that much earlier this time).

We just want to help you share your photos from Art on the Rocks as well as the various Harry Potter release parties planned for tonight. Rather than write the guidelines over again, we figured we'd just have you go to our last post about it and look at them there.

The only difference for the Harry Potter images is that we want you to use the tag hpotterbham07 with bhamterminal.

That's it. We're looking forward to seeing what might come in (and to letting you know about another way to submit photos in the near future).

Thanks.
