

Attendees to this year's BarCamp Birmingham had the opportunity to hear from Harris Reynolds  about the experience of developing and launching a new website in one week - bhamcentral.com. Harris felt the need to explore and provide a solution to the issue of the online community portal.

You can read what was driving his desire to create one on his blog, Simplifying Software, check out the presentation on Vimeo (and think about checking out all of the other presentations from BarCamp as they become available) and try bhamcentral.com out for yourself and see what you think.
