

The Magic City joined Homewood in relaxing the time restrictions placed on area residents during the region's stage 3 drought. The News' post details the Birmingham City Council's approval of a modification of the ordinance. The revision also allowed some area car washes to resume operation.

That change allows for city residents to water between 9 p.m. and 9 a.m. The council's move was similar to Homewood's, who made their modification during their council meeting last night, in that it did not affect the day of week restrictions currently in place. Vestavia Hills has also revised their ordinance's time restrictions, now allowing residents to water between 7 p.m. and 7 a.m.

The region remains under stage 3 drought conditions.