

This morning Birmingham's mayor, Larry Langford, was involved in a car accident on Ensley Avenue. According to several reports (and his appearance during this morning's City Council meeting), he was uninjured while the vehicle he was traveling in was damaged.

While The Birmingham News simply stated that he was on his way to work, some people thought to read into the location of the accident, including Birmingham Weekly. The mayor reported to the council that he was on the city's west side in order to check on the progress of the Fair Park redevelopment project currently underway, a statement relayed to followers of the city's Twitter profile (including us).
