

Workers were surveying the former location for Birmingham Fire Department Engine No. 22 early this morning, just one day after the city's Design Review Committee held over for review a conceptual design that would allow a Walgreens pharmacy to replace the structure - along with the car repair business immediately next door and apparently long time fixture breakfast venue Bogue's Restaurant.

According to a Birmingham Business Journal article from earlier this month, there have been several inquiries made about redevelopment of the busy intersection where the Lakeview, Highland Park and Forest Park neighborhoods meet.

Jeremy Erdreich's blog, Bhamarchitect, has received a great deal of traffic, and comments, as a result of his post about yesterday morning's meeting.
