

The folks over at the local independent internet radio station are looking for DJs. They still have some of their old personalities, but they're looking for new voices as they begin what we're assuming is a relaunch in the near future.

Head on over to their site, look around and get in contact with them if you're interested. Of course you can always visit their MySpace page (or visit others using our Magic City MySpace Directory). You may want to listen to them too (just saying!).
