

We've been informed since our post earlier this morning about Councilor Bell's MySpace profile that City Council president Carole Smitherman has also created a MySpace profile for her campaign. Here's a link to it. These are some of the things that we'd like to provide for you in our Election '07 section which we will preview at tomorrow's night's launch party at The Bottletree; click here to learn more about it and here to view the door prizes.

And if you're still inclined to, our questions for the candidates submission form is still available by clicking here. The form is still set up for the six candidates that we assumed would be in the race at that time. If your specific question is directed to Raymond Brooks, Barry Taylor or Willie Hendrix, please just make sure that you type their name into the appropriate text box before the beginning of your question.

We hope to meet with the candidates in the next week, posting their responses to your questions beginning September 10. We will keep you informed with that and other developments as we are able.

NOTE: Hear their answers to your questions on our Election '07 site!
