

We're slowly adding features to the Election '07 site. We've actually started using the blog this morning, asking what should be the most important question about the race:

Just what are the issues?

Yesterday we learned that William Bell and Ray Brooks will also be participating in our online forum, joining those that we announced yesterday.

Finally, later this morning we'll also be adding an Election '07 calendar to the site's sidebar that will list upcoming candidate events. We only have two to start the list, so if you're a candidate you may just want to send your schedule in to us so we can share it with everybody else.
