

By now you should know that the City Council voted unanimously to revoke the business & liquor licenses of a gas station owner on the city's East side. The decision has led to some interesting commentary over on the Birmingham News' breaking news blog. So after you've finished looking at the story that was filed and the 20+ comments (there are more listed but some are repeats), let's hear what you think about it.

NOTE: It's interesting to note that the decision from the courts on the case has not been made yet.
