Not only is America's oldest ballpark enjoying some visits from minor league officials this week, it's also enjoying its recently redesigned website. Head on over to <http://www.rickwood.com> (yeah, we know it's not finished yet, but check it out anyway) and see what we mean.

And that's on top of the park having been the cover story in this month's Southwest Airlines Spirit magazine. Here's a link to the article as it exists on the website. Here's a link to a PDF of the article as well. It's a nice way for the park to get some attention as an unofficial countdown begins towards its 100th birthday in 2010.
