

Tonight's your last chance to enjoy the Alabama Symphony Orchestra perform in Railroad Park downtown. As mentioned previously over on *Ti met ablé* this is a new version of the outdoor summer concert series that was held at Caldwell Park in Birmingham's Highland Park neighborhood.

The photo above is from Friday night's performance; Sunday's will begin at 6 p.m. and is being called more family-friendly than the previous two. Pieces presented will include the theme to the Harry Potter film series, selections from Pirates of the Caribbean and a big bands salute all sponsored by Protective Life.

Attendees who want to share their photos from this weekend with others and are members of Flickr may want to add them to the unofficial group for Railroad Park that's maintained on the popular site. The park has placed a gallery of those images on its website.
