

Members of the group Victims of Birmingham Crime have developed an online map where people can keep track of recent crimes in the city of Birmingham.

A look at the map shows that they are going back and referencing every crime that has taken place this calendar year within the city limits. While there is a contact link on the map, it may be best to contact the group through their MySpace profile. Or to contact the Birmingham Batman with the following information so that he may add it to the map:

Date

Time

Address, intersection or street

Description of the incident
