

It's still several months away (and it may just be out of reach for many of us) but the guys from Porsche Sport Driving School are offering a women's only two-day high performance driving course at Barber Motorsports Park September 18 & 19. Up until now, the Porsche Driving Experience has primarily drawn men to the course, leaving wives and girlfriends to sit on the sidelines watching them have all the fun driving around Barber. Experience ctivities will include classroom instruction as well as on-track sessions and off-road courses.

The experience will also allow for the participants to relax. It will include a fashion show at the Ross Bridge Resort . Participants that take advantage of the hotel's package offer will be able to enjoy spa treatments, golf lessons and yoga and pilates classes. Now of course the price may be a little out there ($2,995), but I'm sure that it will still draw a crowd as women from around the world fill their need for speed.

It's already drawn attention from several sources, including Automobile Magazine and Luxist.com . Class size caps at approximately 30, meaning that it will still sell out most likely.
