

It's that time of year where people decide what the best of the best are here in Birmingham. We have the pleasure of having two readers choice polls come out at the same time this year.

Birmingham Weekly has released its Menu of Menus (this year on a Wednesday - check out this story previewing the complete list), while The Birmingham News has published the results of its 2007 Readers Choice Awards.

Check them out and let us know what you think about them. You might also want to check out this recent post about opinions on the News' poll.
