

I just found this great site, the BLP blog. And that's how this came to my attention. Jim Baggett, Birmingham Public Library archivist, is leading nighttime walking tours of notorious downtown historic sites just in time for Halloween. Admission is free but reservations are needed. Contact Baggett at 226-3631 or e-mail jbaggett@bham.lib.al.us. Meet in the atrium of the Central (downtown) Library, 2100 Park Place. The tour will last about one hour. Walking can get you thirsty so there's a break for refreshments at Safari Cup during the tour.
