

Wonder Mill Films has announced that they're going to hold auditions for their new feature film, A Genesis Found, in Birmingham on February 9 at 1 p.m. Auditions will take place on UAB's campus in their theatre department (700 13th Street South), with the Huntsville-based production looking for all ethnicities, men and women, ages 17 - 70.

The blog for the production provides more information about this narrative adventure/mystery which "...focuses on a young archeology student's confrontation of his family's legacy, responsibility, and faith." Filming will take place in northern and central Alabama.